

Ensuring an impeccable client experience

For more than half a century, Renaissance has been providing world-class ancillary benefits to employer groups across the US. The leadership team wanted an office update that integrated the history of their brand with high-end fit and finish. A space that welcomed guests and reflected the stand-out customer experience that Renaissance brings to their work. Inspired by technology, with a focus on culture-building, they created a place people would remember. With DIRTT, Renaissance built a space that let in the natural light and showed off the Indianapolis skyline. It has plenty of open spaces for their team to get together, balanced with private offices that use a refined color pallet. Custom-stained timber provides warmth and stability while millwork solutions offer stylish functionality. It's current, cohesive and collaborative.
